The importance of acting now

Changing nature of work

A rapidly changing society undergoing environmental, technological, and social transformations

People increasingly need flexible training to meet the changing skills demands

Impact of COVID-19

Demand for various online learning opportunities has accelerated

Demand for alternative credentials, their recognition and validation becomes urgent

Need for a common Understanding

Massive increase in different forms of alternative credentials

Need for a transparent common definition and boost of take-up, validation, recognition and portability

Common definition

"A micro-credential is a recognised proof of the learning outcomes that a learner has acquired following a short learning experience. These learning outcomes have been assessed against transparent standards."

The proof is contained in a certified document that lists the name of the holder, the achieved learning outcomes, the assessment method, the awarding body and, where applicable, the qualifications framework level and the credits gained. Micro-credentials are owned by the learner, can be shared, are portable and may be combined into larger credentials or qualifications. They are underpinned by quality assurance following agreed standards.
